

Two-hour horizon: the corrected configuration holds where single-step fails

INTC 2015-01-29. Both final-model candidates stay inside the real envelope for the full two hours; the single-step replication crosses the conditioning boundary at ~minute 73 and never recovers.

